To Edward Johnson

"One Tree."

Poem by: George Elliston

Music by: Joseph Quintile.

Carl Fischer, New York
No. 3

George Elliston.

"One Tree."

Joseph Quintile.

And^te, mod^to.

Voice

Piano.

I shall not need a fo-rest to com-plete my hap-pi-ness, when I shall build at last for peace and days grow less. Oh, I have loved the thick green

allarg

-woods peo-pled with sen-ti-nels-, Full lipped in spring, breas-ted in snow-leaf song-wind bells-

allarg.

a tempo

I shall be con-tent if I may

a tempo

rall.

dim

have one tree, just one be-fore my door, companion at set of sun, Each lea-fy mel-o-dy will mean the more in so-lo strain, Each dripping bough the lovelier lute af-ter the rain.

Lento.

One tree - just one, will sa-tis-fy when I can no more

calando

pp sost:

allargando.

ten

go —, to hold com-mun-ion with the hosts of trees I know —.

ten

Carl Fischer, New York
No. 3